

Mission

NOLF supports and aids in the enrichment of public library resources for the people of Clallam County.

Goals

- To sponsor new and innovative system-wide library programs and services that are beyond the limits of public funding
- To work with Friends of the Library and other community partners in raising funds for major capital needs
- To build an endowment of $5 million to support the ongoing development of collections of books and other materials in all NOLS libraries

About NOLF

The North Olympic Library Foundation (NOLF) was established in 2012 to strengthen support for our excellent library system. NOLF's focus is on building an endowment to support collections of books and other library materials, and to finance system-wide programs and projects that cannot be supported with public funds.

The Foundation answers the desire of library lovers to provide the library system with major gifts and bequests and to receive grants. NOLF funds will address system-wide technology and capital needs, raise awareness in the community about the library, and test innovative services.

The Foundation is a not-for-profit 501(c)3 corporation governed by a volunteer board of directors. Your gift is tax-deductible as allowed by U.S. law.

The North Olympic Library System (NOLS) is the public library for all of Clallam County. NOLS operates branch libraries in Port Angeles, Clallam Bay, Forks and Sequim, and 24/7 online services at www.nols.org. The Library collection consists of more than 260,000 books, e-books, DVDs and other materials. Each NOLS library offers WiFi access, public computers, a wide array of programs and events for children, teens, adults, families, and more.

The library is primarily funded through property taxes. Funding is also received from fines, fees and miscellaneous charges, as well as a share of taxes from timber harvests on public and private lands within Clallam County.

Public funds alone are not enough to sustain the broad range of services the library offers. Each branch library is fortunate to have a strong partnership with its Friends of the Library group. The Friends raise money to support children's programs, furniture and equipment, and other branch-specific needs.

Legacy Giving

I like knowing that I'm building a strong future for our library. — Patrick Irwin

The North Olympic Library System is about books and so much more; it's about enriching lives here in Clallam County. Your gift to the North Olympic Library Foundation will help the library remain a vibrant and dynamic community resource for future generations.

If you believe that the library must continue to serve our communities, consider creating your legacy at the North Olympic Library System by making a planned gift to the North Olympic Library Foundation. To make a legacy gift, you can:

- Prepare or amend your will or living trust, naming North Olympic Library Foundation as a beneficiary of your estate;
- Name North Olympic Library Foundation as a beneficiary of your pension or IRA;
- Name North Olympic Library Foundation as a beneficiary of a life insurance policy;

- Make a gift of real estate or other appreciated assets such as stocks or real estate;
- Create an endowment, charitable trust, or other planned gift on behalf of North Olympic Library Foundation.

Contact your attorney or financial advisor to discuss giving opportunities that make sense for you.
